1. On approximately 20 October 1947 the Nihon Maru and the Kaiyo Maru left Hulutao (120-59, 40-44) for Japan with an unknown number of Japanese repatriates.
2. On 10 October 1947, 2,060 Japanese left Mukden for Chinchou (121-07, 41-07), en route to Hulutao. Of this group, 1,045 left Mukden at 10:40 A.M.; the remaining group of 1,015 left Mukden at 1:00 P.M.
3. In addition to this group of 2,060 Japanese, there were approximately 150 Japanese in Chinchou on 16 October 1947 waiting for the railroad between Chinchou and Hulutao to be repaired.
4. The Taihan Maru is in the port of Hulutao and has been there since approximately 5 October 1947. The Taihan Maru reports that its fuel supply is getting low, but the Northeast Pacification Headquarters has ordered it to remain until the Japanese waiting at Chinchou can be transported over the Chinchou-Hulutao railway, which should be possible by 19 October 1947.
5. All assembly camps in Mukden, except one camp which accommodates 300 persons, were returned to the Chinese authorities at noon on 14 October 1947.
6. The present Japanese repatriation from Nationalist-held territory in Manchuria is considered completed. The number of arrivals of Japanese from Chinese Communist-controlled territory cannot be determined at present. The staff in charge of repatriation in Mukden desires that as soon as a group of 500 persons is assembled, they be sent out immediately because of limited facilities.

Note: [redacted] repatriation of Japanese from Tsingtao and Shantung would be completed with the sailing of the group waiting at Tsingtao on 22 September 1947.
